No tech, no problem:

Don't have an in-house developer? That's never a problem with Givee. Set up and customize a store for customers in minutes — no coding, long wait times, or lengthy intake forms required.

No guesstimation, no waste:

With Givee, there's no guessing how many water bottles or notebooks a customer will need, because we create gifts as they're ordered, (so no handling unused inventory after an event, either). That also means fewer unused and unwanted gifts left behind in hotel rooms or discarded and sent to landfills.

The quality you need, at every stage:

What you see is what you get - and that's quality and speed! You won't work with middlemen or additional fulfillers and suppliers when you use Givee, so you'll never waste any time tracking down the right support person when you have a question. It's all us, all the time, which means you're assured quality and attentiveness at every step.
